

Supervision and Community Policing: Yesterday, Today & Tomorrow

October 3-4, 2006

Who Should Attend? Designed for supervisors and leaders of police officers.

Focus: An interactive 2-day workshop identifying the changing style necessary for the supervisor/leader working with police officers in a collaborative community based effort.

Program:

- ◆ Defining community policing and its application on an agency by agency basis.
- ◆ Analyzing the change process specific to individual departments.
- ◆ Overseeing the creation of “beat” profiles
- ◆ Examining the supervisor’s role as mentor, facilitator, motivator and coach.
- ◆ Dealing with the issues of ethics and integrity and the development/maintenance of community trust.
- ◆ Working with officers and community members to create a system for the allocation and utilization of resources through a joint problem solving process.
- ◆ Examining terrorism awareness for community residents and reducing community fear through information and neighborhood preparedness.
- ◆ Assessing results and providing feedback on accomplishments made in addressing problems of crime and disorder.
- ◆ Addressing the issues of team building, both within the agency and the community.

Registration Cost: $125 ($110 if 3 or more from same jurisdiction attend)

To Register Call: Bridget Scott at 1-800-892-9051

For Training Locations, Lodging and Instructor Information Contact:
Bridget Scott at 1-800-892-9051

MCOLES certified. All training is eligible for 302 60% department funds.

Cancellations: You must cancel within five days of the training in order to receive a full refund.

Handicapper accommodations may be requested by calling the School of Criminal Justice at 800-892-9051 thirty days prior to the program to ensure sufficient time to make arrangements. Requests received after this date will be met when possible.

Visit our website at: www.cj.msu.edu/~outreach/rcpi

MSU is an affirmative action/equal opportunity institution